This is the message that was sent last time to prompt folks to provide a commitment statement (please let me know how to make it more clear):

Hello all -

I am sending you a direct message to our final session on the book Me and White Supremacy. Even if you have not been able to attend all the meetings. Please show up and be with us. I encourage you to focus on Day 28, and the final section that asks, "What commitments you are willing to make?" We are each going to arrive with a written statement of our commitment. Prior to our last meeting, please go to the following link and provide you commitment as a draft statement. By doing this, you will help support the overall discussion for this final evening. Thank you.
