

Paragraph for top of all FACILITATOR GUIDES 2026

End each day with a return to the community agreements. Begin each day with the community agreements, use these to ground the participants and facilitators. Consider the community agreements as a way for frame the time together consistently throughout the time together.

Question at the end of each day: What did we do well? Where could we focus more?

Question at the beginning of each day: Yesterday we said we would focus/consider more of _____ – is there something additional or different we should consider? Does where we left the conversation yesterday still land as a good focus of our time today?
